Oh ok, as far as I know he is working all day today.

Thanks,

Thanks, Michelle. I knew up the meeting reschedule. The team then worked hard to make some last revisions so that something could go out yesterday. Not sure where the gap might be, so we'll keep digging.

By the way, is Chris around today? I think we were anticipating both of attaching the letter (and revised briefing paper) to the invite again, but also having Chris send the letter directly to the principals, because it was clear from this week that they weren't necessarily looking at the invite for the materials.

Thanks for your assistance.

Hi Dan, it was not. The meeting was rescheduled to Tuesday of next week because the materials were not ready for review prior to the previously scheduled meeting.

Good morning, Michelle. I also can try to check with Chris directly, but with Andrew (and Rebecca) out of the office, I am getting questions from the team whether the latest draft of our comment letter on the Pebble FEIS was sent to the senior leaders in DC yesterday. I am thinking it that if it happened it would have been sent by Chris (to Matt Leopold/David Fotouhi, Lee Forsgren, Brittany Bolen)?
